Known for crazy onstage antics as well as blending electronica, soul, crunk and southern rock, the band finished their last tour of 2009 last night as they brought their latest album – Family Force 5's Christmas Pageant – to audiences from Michigan to Florida.

Of course, Family Force 5's Christmas Pageant album is available now. As the New York Post said: "The electro-krunk rockers put a genius spin on holiday favorites."
